

May 2, 2011

Raleigh - Our nation is united in the sense that justice has been done for the barbaric murder of 3000 innocent human beings a decade ago. I congratulate our military and our intelligence forces for their relentless and ultimately successful search. Al Qaeda remains a threat, but we have also seen demands for democratic reform in the Muslim world in recent months that give us hope. We have much work before us still.

###